Description:

Compared to the RAF's Fighter and Bomber Commands, the Desert Air Force (DAF) is far less well known, yet its achievements were spectacular. DAF led the way in North Africa and Italy in pioneering new tactics in close Army-Air Force cooperation on the battlefield, DAF and Allied air forces gave Allied armies in North Africa and Italy a decisive cutting edge. While the Axis forces used the many rivers and mountains of Tunisia and Italy to slow the Allies' advance, DAF was there to provide that extra mobile firepower – the artillery from the sky. They were the first multinational air force, and the first to introduce air controllers in the front lines of the battlefield. With firsthand accounts by veteran airmen from Britain, Australia, Canada, New Zealand, South Africa and the USA, this book reveals the decisive victories with which DAF won the war over North Africa, the Mediterranean and Italy in 1942-45.

Ok read because its through personal accounts the author presents the air war in Mediterranean. If you're looking for a strategic or operational level type book about Mediterranean air warfare, this isn't the book for you.

But I found myself frustrated with him going back-and-forth, and by his inappropriate responses to things not involving intimacy or bdsm play. This is such an awesome book. I wish I had read this when studying for my degree in design in London. They really liked it and many asked each day if we'd read more. The book seems to rush that deludes its quality. 745.10.2651514 It doesn't quite hit the heights of Blomberg's classic work on the gospels, but it comes close, and that's definitely a good thing. The Iranians target minorities championing democracy and equal rights for the oppressed and it targets its own. This is a book worthy of four and a half stars, from an acclaimed author. I just was not as hot for them. Blomberg takes great pains to make every word count, and despite its hundreds of pages it doesn't waste any words in detailing the situation and context of the early Christian church.
